

Back in 2020 our community mourned the loss of one of our own. Kimberley McRae was murdered in her home, while doing her job, by one of her clients.

This month, Kimberley's (alleged) killer is finally facing justice. News coverage of the trial has not always been respectful or trauma-informed.

We know that for many s3x workers and trans people, this case is triggering. At times like this, it's more important than ever that we practice collective care.

If you would like to talk a fellow s3x worker, you can contact us on 02 9184 9466 or email swopconnect@swop.org.au

Our inhouse counsellor Maggie is also available for any NSW s3x worker who needs support to manage grief and trauma. Contact us at the above phone number or email address to make an appointment.
